

When
Love
Hurts

Rights, Responsibilities, Realities
A New Hampshire Bar Association Program on Teen Dating Violence

Accompanying Videos:

Video #1 -

Ryan and Jade video – Discussion Question: Is This Abuse?

The behavior exhibited is emotional/verbal abuse. There are also threats and in the end the individual takes her phone, which is theft.

Possible criminal conduct:

- criminal threatening (possibly, the threat is not immediate or imminent, so it may not rise to the level of criminal threatening)
- theft (he does take her phone without her permission, which is a theft)
- criminal mischief (if the phone is destroyed, it may be criminal conduct)

Most likely this conduct would give rise to a restraining order, particularly in light of the threat.

Video #2 -

Siobhan Russell video clip – Would the threats in this case be criminal? Could they support a Civil Order of Protection?

Would the following events either serve as the basis for a civil restraining order or possible criminal charges?

- Threats to kill her parents?
- Threats to beat up her brother?
- Threats to harm her younger sister?

Video #3 –

Hugely murder trial clip – Discussion Questions: Could the events leading to this tragedy lead to criminal charges or a Civil Order of Protections?

Questions:

- Would e-mail saying “I should have killed you!”
- form the basis of a civil restraining order?
  - be criminal in nature?

Video #4 –

“Gravity” Right to be Safe -

Is meant to be the wrap up of the Power Point Presentation –

Ending Statement: You have a right to be in a healthy and safe relationship.

Next 2 Pages Show:

1. Screen Display on Laptop or Computer – Click on Open folder to view files
2. Files Currently On the Disc (6) – Click on WhenLoveHurts.ppt for PowerPoint
3. After PowerPoint – Click on each individual Video (Video 1, Video 2, Video 3, Video 4) for discussion

