

We Need 20 Teachers to take part in a control group for a Project Citizen Research Program (PCRP). We will accept applicants through August 27, 2021.

Control Group participants should have no experiences with the Project Citizen program.

Please review the attached forms:

1. The Project Citizen Research Program (PCRP) is an endeavor to research the quality of PCRP training. Georgetown University (Diana Owen) will be conducting the research. In simple terms, the PCRP participants will be the experimental group while individuals like yourself will be part of the control group.
2. Please return the Control Group Teacher Agreement. Please fill out completely. The information will be used to prepare a general report on the number of teachers, the number of students, and the types of classes that are part of the control group.
3. The attached W-9 is needed for your compensation. You will receive a stipend upon completion of the pre/post-testing of yourself and your students. You can return the form now or wait until later. Once you have completed the testing and the form has been received, you will receive a stipend. (The compensation will be for pre/post testing yourself and your students for a total of $110 or $55.00 per testing period.)
4. Tests and the testing directions will be sent to you in August. Also, if your state/district has problems with outside group testing, please make this known. Georgetown has a procedure and will rectify any problems.
